Guess Who's Coming to Dinner! May 6 event to feature SEC Chair Mary Jo White

Guess Who's Coming to Dinner is an American comedy-drama about a surprising collection of people. There are two key characters in our May 6 McLean Area Branch version. The first is someone we are especially delighted and privileged to host, Mary Jo White, the 31st and current chair of the Securities and Exchange Commission, the federal agency charged with protecting investors from crimes such as illegal stock trading, accounting fraud, and unscrupulous financial advising.

Born in Kansas City, MO and raised in McLean, White moved on to the College of William and Mary, graduating Phi Beta Kappa. She later studied law at Columbia University, eventually becoming U.S. Attorney for the Southern District of New York, the only woman to have ever held that post. Known as a tough prosecutor who successfully took on the likes of mobster John Gotti and the terrorists responsible for

2014 Book Sale Plans Underway

Yes, McLean Branch, there will be a 45th used book sale! Four members will serve as co-chairs. They are Marge Degnon, Phyllis Krochmal, Carol Langelier, and Nancy Richardson. You'll find their contact information in your branch directory.

Accordingly, our book sale tasks have been divided into four groups, each group led by a co-chair. Marge will work with subcommittee chairs for publicity, volunteer staffing, hospitality, and managing our McLean Community Center office. Phyllis will work with subcommittee chairs for sorting, treasures, moving, and MCC set-up. Carol will work with subcommittee chairs for budget, head cashier, charge cards, and box counts. Nancy will work with subcommittee chairs for collection, teen workers, disposal, and clean-up.

More, there are additional changes afoot. You may have noticed the mention of charge cards. It's true, we're going to experiment. We're also going to stage

Spring is turning out to be a good season not just for warmer weather but also for the McLean Area Branch. At our annual business (and potluck) meeting held on March 18, the following nominations for 2014/15 branch officers were presented to the branch members.

Co-presidents: Nancy Richardson and Peggy Stotz

Co-vice presidents: for Membership: Barbara Sipe and Betsy Schroeder

Treasurer: Mary Anne Graham

Board secretary: Virginia Dobozy

Branch secretary: Linda Regan

The membership voted by acclamation to elect the slate as listed. We gratefully thank the nominating committee and the individuals who volunteered for these leadership positions.

A comment about the March 18 program: it was outstanding. Mary Ann Jung's performance as Amelia Earhart was entertaining, informative, and convincing. If you were not able to be at the March meeting, you missed a great program.

More progress — we have four co-chairs for our 2014 book sale. They are Marge Degnon, Carol Langelier, Nancy Richardson, and Phyllis Krochmal. Already several people have signed up to take responsibility for various tasks. We're very appreciative of these volunteers for being in charge of our major fundraiser.

Branch members have always been ready to pitch in and contribute to the actual work of the book sale, and I'm sure this year will be the same. The 2014 book sale will be the weekend of September 19-20, so be sure to "hold the date!" A few differences for this year — there will be four collection dates instead of five, and collections will end at 1:30 p.m. This means we can get all the books into the bank before it closes at 2 p.m., and the branch can eliminate the expense of the storage pod.

But there's more to come for this year.

April 11 will be the Author's Luncheon, sponsored by the Morning Literature special interest group. On May 6 we'll hold our annual end-of-year banquet featuring guest speaker Mary Jo White, chair of the Securities and Exchange Commission. You don't want to miss this opportunity! Later on May 17, our branch will have a table at the McLean Day celebration. One of the reasons for our participation is to raise awareness of McLean AAUW in the local community. In June, we will participate for the second year in the Kent Gardens Elementary School project featuring inventions by students in grades three to six.

So enjoy springtime, which has finally come (I think) and enjoy the rest of this year, while looking forward to another great year ahead.

Linda Regan

STEMtastics: Inspiring Middle School Girls to Pursue STEM Careers

Attendance at STEMtastics at Northern Virginia Community College – Annandale was “standing room only” when almost 300 middle school girls and 200 parents from Fairfax County listened to keynote speaker Erica Grow, meteorologist for WUSA-TV, Channel 9, provide advice and motivation as she discussed her career. Fifty McLean students from Longfellow and Cooper Middle Schools joined students from 35 other schools on March 8 at STEMtastics, a career day event designed to educate and inspire the students to consider careers in STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math). Following opening ceremonies, twenty female presenters from across STEM fields ran interactive breakout workshops for the students, while parents attended informational workshops on curriculum, resources, and college financing options.

The event was sponsored by the Fairfax City, McLean Area, and Reston-Herndon branches of AAUW in conjunction with Fairfax County Public Schools and SySTEMic Solutions. The event was co-chaired by Fairfax City and Reston-Herndon volunteers, while McLean Area led the effort for registration, including development of an online registration capability available on our website. Ten volunteers from our branch – Pam Bacher, Mary Ellen Keene, Ginger MacEwen, Mary Lou Melley, Judy Page, Caroline Pickens, Betsy Schroeder, Barbara Sipe, Peggy Stotz, and Wen Yi – supported the event both in advance and with day-of-event support. They were part of a group of over 40 volunteers from the three branches and NVCC students who ensured the event ran smoothly.

A photo gallery from the event is available at <http://mclean-va.aauw.net/stemtastics/stemtastics-photo-gallery>. Branch members interested in volunteering for future STEM events should contact Judy Page.

McLean Area Branch Officers 2014/2015 Membership Year

The following branch officers for the 2014/2015 branch year were elected at the annual branch business meeting, March 18.

Co-Presidents

Nancy Richardson

This bio is made possible by the generous support of my husband and two sons.

I spent 25 years in the field of education. When I retired at age 30, my transition to volunteering was seamless. I was already accustomed to long hours, not much pay, and quite a lot of autonomy.

This background led me to Bicentennial Host Houses, painting a tug boat, writing feature articles, selling advertising, coordinating a Meals on Wheels program, and helping to manage a local concert series, church, and neighborhood.

My all-time favorite, though, has been my years of service with AAUW, years of creating opportunities for women and girls. I've held just about every branch and state office except secretary, co-chaired four book sales, lobbied in Richmond, founded a branch, and co-chaired an AAUW national convention local arrangements committee. The best news is that many of the offices I've held in AAUW have been shared ... with Peggy Stotz!

Peggy Stotz

I joined AAUW over 40 years ago and have been a member in Massachusetts, California, Connecticut, and Virginia. After all these years working on the branch, state, and national level, I am still thoroughly convinced that AAUW is the way to go to achieve equity for women and girls through education and philanthropy. I also served on Lobby Corps, including seven years as chair, trying to convince Congress to give women a fair shake. Beyond that, working with AAUW members over the years has been a great pleasure for me, and I look forward to continuing to work with McLean branch members and Nancy Richardson. (See Nancy's bio.)

Co-Vice Presidents Membership

Betsy Schroeder

Betsy joined McLean AAUW in 1974. She graduated from Georgetown University with a degree in nursing. After moving back to Virginia she worked at Georgetown University Hospital from 1973 until she retired last year. Her fields of practice included surgical intensive care and pre/post anesthesia care. She earned a national certification in adult critical care nursing and served on many committees at the hospital, primarily focused on education. Another love was mentoring nursing students and new practitioners.

Betsy has served as branch secretary, membership vice president, book sale chair, and is active in the branch Bridge and Morning Literature groups. In the early years of the book sales the books were collected and sorted in her basement for two years — obviously a much smaller venture in those days.

She looks forward to expanding our membership with a focus on reaching out to younger prospective members.

Barbara Sipe

Barbara got her undergraduate degree at Barnard College in government and her master's degree at Columbia in public law and government. After serving in the foreign service, she moved to McLean with her new husband almost 45 years ago. She joined AAUW at the book sale in 2011. Among branch activities, she enjoys the Great Decisions group and interesting branch meeting programs. She has served as vice president for membership this past year and looks forward to another year of serving the membership and encouraging women to join our branch.

Treasurer

Mary Anne Graham

I retired from the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) the end of January and one of my goals is to get more actively involved in branch activities.

I joined the former Leesburg Area Branch of AAUW in 1976 to "get out of the house." While a member, I was president, co-president, and treasurer, in that order. I also participated in the Lobby Corps. When the branch dissolved, I joined the McLean Area Branch because I was impressed with its enthusiastic members and dynamic programs; but due to work commitments, I was able to only help at book sales. One year, Diane Alden and I helped organize a debate between political candidates which Elaine Lailas moderated. I was one of the founding members of the Ashburn-Leesburg Branch six years ago. I have served as treasurer and am currently the branch's president.

I received a Project Renew grant 1993-1994 to obtain a paralegal certificate and I also received an AAUW travelship to attend a peace and national security seminar in New York in 1982. I received a bachelor's degree in French/education from Wake Forest University, am a retired Army lieutenant colonel, and I am the vice-mayor of Round Hill, Virginia.

Board Secretary

Virginia Dobozy

Virginia Dobozy has been a member of the McLean Area Branch for at least fifteen years. She has been active with the branch Current Events and Morning Literature groups and has enjoyed working on the book sale. She graduated from Elizabethtown College with

Democracy – Make It Work

Let's start with Aristotle 384-322 B.C. He said "if liberty and equality, as is thought by some, are chiefly to be found in democracy, they will be best attained when all persons alike share in the government to the utmost" (from Politics, IV, 4).

So let's examine how we can "share to the utmost" by considering upcoming current events.

Area Congressional Districts

Rep. Jim Moran (D) has represented the 8th Congressional district for many years. He is retiring and there are many vying for his job. On the Democratic side, there are about ten people (at this writing) interested. What about "sharing in the government"? Every resident in this district may vote in the primary on June 10 for the Democratic nominee. The results are important because gerrymandering has designed this district to hold mostly Democratic voters. On the Republican side, there are also a number of people looking for the nomination.

In the 10th Congressional District, Rep. Frank Wolf (R) is also retiring, leaving this seat open. Supervisor John Foust (D) will be the Democratic nominee for the seat. A number of Republicans are vying for that nomination, including Barbara Comstock who is currently a delegate to the Virginia Assembly. The GOP nominee will be selected April 26 through a firehouse primary.

Rep. Gerry Connolly (D) is the incumbent for the 11th Congressional District. An update about Republicans vying to become the GOP candidate will be provided later.

Meanwhile, incumbent Senator Mark Warner (D) is running for reelection. Ed Gillespie a former Republican National Committee chair, is working toward the nomination as the Republican candidate.

Sharing in the government to the utmost is to become informed about the platforms of the candidates, vote in the relevant primary or convention, and then vote in the November election.

Virginia Assembly – Special Session

On March 24 a special session will be held to work on the budget. The headline news in The Washington Post is "Budget impasse firmly in place; Two weeks after an impasse over Medicaid prevented passage of a two-year $96 billion budget, the legislature is coming back to Richmond to try again. The deadlock could lead to a government shutdown if it is not resolved by July 1. Shorter delays could make it difficult for local governments, school boards, universities and other recipients of state dollars to set their budgets." Does this seem like déjà vu? The Virginia House of Delegates has a wide Republican majority and the Virginia Senate is evenly divided. The governor, Senate Democrats and three moderate Republicans support expansion of Medicaid, saying it will help 400,000 needy Virginians and create many new jobs. The GOP-dominated House is opposed.

According to Senator Janet Howell (D), most chambers of commerce and business groups, hospitals, religious organizations, medical groups, and editorial boards support Medicaid for the state. Share in the government and attend town meetings to express your views.

Meanwhile, April 8 looms large for all of us. It is Equal Pay Day and your signatures will be presented with those of all Virginia AAUW branches to Governor McAuliffe in support of Equal Pay Day Proclamation. The petition states, "we the undersigned join with the AAUW of Virginia in urging you to pass legislation protecting workers who share salary information with their co-workers. In 2012, women in Virginia working full-time, year round, were still paid 79 cents on average for every dollar paid to men. Pass legislation protecting workers who share salary information with their co-workers so we can finally enable Virginia women to bring home the pay they have rightfully earned."

a bachelor's degree in medical technology and worked in a hospital hematology laboratory before entering veterinary school at the University of Pennsylvania. After graduating, she worked in a private small animal practice in Northern Virginia, then in veterinary drug regulation at the Food and Drug Administration, and finally in pesticide regulation at the Environmental Protection Agency before retiring in 2001. She also has a master's degree in public health from Johns Hopkins University.

Branch Secretary

Linda Regan

Joining AAUW was one of the first things I did after moving to McLean from California. I have been happy to serve one year as board secretary and one year as co-president. For next year I look forward serving as branch secretary. The McLean Area Branch has wonderful members and I am very glad I joined.

Renew Your AAUW
Membership Online
— By Our May 6 Dinner — and Get Two Chances for Free Dues

We would like to streamline the membership renewal paperwork this year and are encouraging all our members to renew online. If you pay dues on or before May 6, the date of our annual dinner meeting, you will be entered in a drawing where we will award two people prizes related to dues for 2014-2015. For most members of the branch, the prize will be free national dues worth $49; for Life members (who don't pay annual national dues) the prize will be free state and branch dues worth $26. However, if you renew by May 6 online, your name will be entered TWICE in the drawing.

The instructions for renewing online are given below; they are also on our website at <http://mclean-va.aauw.net/membership/>. Information on the amounts for annual dues is given in the side box.

1. Go to the Member Services Database at www.aauw.org/resource/member-services-database/ then click on "Enter the MSD."
2. It will ask you for your AAUW member ID — you can find it on the mailing label of a national or state mailing OR you can click on the link provided on the login page to look it up.
- If you are logging in for the first time, you will need to register — there is a link for registering on the login page.
3. Once logged in, click on "Enter Member Services Database" and then on "Renew My Membership" in the left-hand menu.

"Public Policy"

Congressional Update

AAUW public policy staff and volunteer lobbyists have been actively communicating with elected leaders on a number of issues. These include asking them to co-sponsor the Fair Employment Protection Act which seeks to restore the definition of supervisor to what it was before a recent Supreme Court decision. It would ensure protection from harassment based on sex, race, national origin, religion, disability, age, or genetic information by defining the term supervisor to include both those with the power to make decisions about hiring and those with the authority to direct daily work activities but who do not have the power to hire or fire.

4. This will take you to a page that shows the current and new expiration dates for your membership, and the amount of the renewal dues. Here you can enter your credit card information. After you click "Next," you will be able to review the information and then click "Submit" for payment.

5. As long as you are logged in, this is a great time to check and update your personal information! Click on "My Profile / My Membership Card" at the top of the left-hand menu. Then you will have the option to update your profile or even print a membership card!

Any questions or problems with online renewing — please e-mail me at judydpage@gmail.com.

Judy Page, Treasurer

Federal Lobby Day: May 8

The date given for Federal Lobby Day in my Northern District Rep article in the March newsletter is incorrect. The correct date is May 8.

the 1993 World Trade Center bombing, White is the first former prosecutor to head the SEC.

According to The Washington Times, under White the SEC is pushing for tougher settlements and more admissions of wrong doing from defendants. The Washington Post adds that the SEC is also hoping to install the latest in technology to help it enforce federal securities laws and regulate the securities industry.

Though The New Yorker notes that White's favorite charity is the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, perhaps revealing an aw shucks side to her personality, friends and colleagues describe White, even when playing tennis or board games, as "the most competitive and driven person they have ever encountered." Bloomberg Businessweek jests that White is "the sort of person who doesn't sleep and lives on canned tuna."

Mary Jo White is someone you, your friends, and business acquaintances must meet. McLean Area Branch is being gifted with an unprecedented opportunity to meet not only the woman who chairs the Securities and Exchange Commission, but an opportunity to meet her personally, in an intimate setting with .... Hmm, who is that second key character who's coming to dinner?

Make your reservations now for our branch's annual celebration dinner, this year to be held on Tuesday, May 6 at the River Bend Country Club, 375 Walker Road, Great Falls. Plan to gather at 6:30 p.m., with dinner served at 7:15 p.m. A reservation form can be found on page 9 of this newsletter. Need a ride to attend? Phone Barbara Sipe (703/356-2385), and she will look for a branch member who can give you a ride to and from the meeting.

fewer collections over fewer hours at Sun Trust Bank. Our 2014 collection dates are May 31, June 21, July 19, and August 9, all Saturdays. We'll accept books on those days from 9 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

If you would like to help staff a collection day, please contact Diane Alden. If you would like to help with any other book sale tasks, please contact Mary Ellen Weber. The best news? Some sale features will remain the same ... in addition to raising money for scholarships, our 45th annual sale will be fun! Please join in.

March Speaker Snowed In

One of the speakers for our annual meeting was Ann Mazur, McLean's American Fellow. Ann was to speak about her preparation for her dissertation as well as her subject of study, Parlour Theatre in the Victorian Age. Unfortunately, she was coming from the University of Virginia and they were predicted to have a 10 inch snowfall. While Ann was not able to be in McLean she did send me a greeting for all our members. "I will come visit AAUW McLean! I honestly do not know what I would have done without this fellowship
