Spring Dinner Anne Speckhard to Discuss Her Book "Bride of ISIS"

We are delighted to have branch member Anne Speckhard as our speaker at our annual spring dinner.

Anne Speckhard is an adjunct associate professor of psychiatry at the Georgetown University School of Medicine and is director of the International Center for the Study of Violent Extremism. She has been working in the field of post-traumatic stress disorder since the 1980s and has had extensive experience working in Europe, the Middle East, and the former Soviet Union.

She has provided expert consultation to European and Middle Eastern governments as well as to the U.S. Department of Defense regarding programs for the rehabilitation of individuals committed to political violence and militant jihad.

Speckhard has been a consultant to NATO, the Organization for Security and Co-operation in Europe, foreign governments and the U.S. departments of State, Defense, Justice, Homeland Security, Health and Human Services, and the CIA and FBI.

The author of seven books, she will speak to us on one of her most recent, "Bride of ISIS."

You won't want to miss this outstanding and knowledgeable speaker at our annual dinner to be held at 6:30 p.m. on Wednesday, May 25 at the River Bend Country Club. A reservation form is included in this newsletter. Please note, this date has changed from the one listed in the branch directory.

Margaret Doole and Diane Alden, Co-VPs Programs

CALLING ALL MEMBERS

Many hands make light work. There are many opportunities to not only enjoy the rewards of belonging to our wonderful organization, but to find ways to contribute to its success. Please look at the opportunities below to find the best fit for you. Ask not how your branch can serve you, but how you can serve your branch.

Branch

Newsletter editor: The newsletter is an all branch communication that arrives in every member's email inbox once a month for 10 months during the active membership year. The McLean Area Branch has had a newsletter for most of its 47-year existence. Pam Bacher has been editor for more than 20 years. She is more than ready to move on. This job could be shared. Pam will teach you how to do it and be there as a backup advisor.

Please contact Pam at prbacher@verizon.net if you are curious, interested, or have questions.

After the 19th Amendment affirming women's right to vote was ratified in 1920, suffragist leader Alice Paul introduced the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA) in 1923 as the next step in bringing "equal justice under law" to all citizens. In 1972, the ERA was finally passed by Congress and sent to the states for ratification. Lacking three votes, it was never ratified. Women have been waiting a long time for equality in wages and equality as citizens. Our political process this year has proven we still have a long way to go for women to be taken seriously as equals to men. Some men seem especially concerned about wom-

March business meeting LAF Basket and Silent Auction

Thanks to the generosity of our members who donated items for the silent auction held at the March meeting and to those who bid on the items, the branch raised $272! The money will be put in the branch's operating fund. Thanks also to those who contributed money for the LAF basket. The total for the LAF basket was $27. Jane Schmiedekamp ordered clippers and a gardening spade from Amazon for $33.79. The difference will be Jane's donation and she has a few extra things to go in the basket. In addition, Caroline Pickens contributed a book for the basket.

STEMtastics Inspiring Middle School Girls to Pursue STEM Careers

Keynote speaker Swetha Prabakaran, a junior at Thomas Jefferson High School for Science and Technology, spoke to a capacity crowd of over 500 middle school girls and parents attending STEMtastics 2016 at NOVA-Annandale Ernst Center auditorium on Saturday, March 12, 2016. Students from 36 schools, including almost thirty McLean students from Longfellow and Cooper Middle Schools, attended the career day event designed to educate and inspire the students to consider careers in STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math). Swetha provided advice and inspiration as she described her non-profit organization "Everybody Code Now!" intended to encourage young women to consider computer science and other STEM-related activities. Following opening ceremonies, 40 female presenters from across STEM fields ran interactive breakout workshops for the students. Parents had the opportunity to attend informational workshops on resources, financing options, and supporting their daughters.

The event was sponsored by AAUW Fairfax City, McLean Area, Springfield-Annandale, and Vienna Area branches in partnership with Fairfax County Public Schools and NOVA Systemic Solutions. The event was co-chaired by Suzanne Mahoney (Fairfax City) and Judy Page, and Mary Lou Melley also served on the Planning Committee and led the effort to arrange the opening session and parent workshops.

In total, 13 volunteers from our branch – including Pam Bacher, Sue Christie, Juanita Cullen, Ethel Hansan, Amalia Iglesias, Sherry Joslin, Ginger MacEwen, Jane Schmiedekamp, Betsy Schroeder, Edna Weitzman, and Wen Yi – supported the event both in advance and on March 12. They were part of a group of over 80 volunteers, including 60 AAUW members, eight Langley High School students, spouses, and friends who ensured the event ran smoothly. A photo gallery from the event is available at http://mclean-va.aauw.net/stemtastics/stemtastics-2016photo-gallery. Branch members interested in volunteering for future STEM events should contact Judy Page.

Pay Gap Playoffs: NCAA Brackets

Did you know that about 40 million people filled out brackets in hopes of predicting the NCAA basketball tournament outcome?

The AAUW public policy staff looked at the bracket lineups of 64 teams before the first round of the NCAA basketball March madness tournament. AAUW guided their bracket picks on the gender pay gap between female and male graduates of the competing schools.

The message: pay discrimination continues to be a very real problem that directly affects students and their earnings.

In the men's bracket analysis, Hampton University was the only school in the entire tournament with an earnings ratio in which female grads earn more on average than male graduates – 109 cents for every dollar a male graduate earns. Two of the picked final four teams in the women's bracket, Alabama State and North Carolina A&T, were next with an earnings ratio of 99 percent and 89 percent respectively based on the male graduates' earnings. The data comes from the post-college mean earnings data of women and men, who received federal aid, 10 years after their entry to the college or university.

While there is a narrowing of the pay gap at historically black colleges or universities the pay gap has gender and racial components. Compared to a white man's earned dollar, African-American women make only 63 cents, while Latinas make just 54 cents. African-American men also face a racial pay gap when compared with the earnings of white men.

The Washington Post of March 19 had a column, 'On Leadership' that described AAUW's analysis and included an interview with Lisa Maatz. Recently Lisa Maatz testified on behalf of AAUW before the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) on a new rule that seeks to tackle the persistent gender and racial pay gap through improved data collection. From the first AAUW report on pay equity (1913) to the current efforts to pass the Paycheck Fairness Act, AAUW is committed to this issue.

April 12 is Equal Pay Day. Look for AAUW's emails and click to respond and let your voice be heard.

Congressional Voting Record Report Card Time

AAUW has published the charts and scores of legislators on their votes for or against and co-sponsorship of key legislation. Each legislator earns a percentage rating, although that rating does not indicate the full extent of her or his support of AAUW positions.

On the Senate side, votes were tallied on the Paycheck Fairness Act, K-12 Education, human trafficking, campaign finance, campus advisor, and Planned Parenthood. Senator Kaine's score was 83, with a no vote on campaign finance. Senator Warner was 67, with no votes for campus advisor and campaign finance. On the House side votes included those for Paycheck Fairness, Student Success Act, DC Vouchers, Campus Sexual Violence, Planned Parenthood, human trafficking, and campaign finance. Rep. Byer scored 100 percent; Rep. Comstock 14 percent, voting yes only on human trafficking; and Rep. Connolly earned 86 percent with a no vote on Campus Sexual Violence.

If you want to see more, go to the AAUW web site and/or see me for the hard copy report.

Virginia – 2016 Session Adjourned

The state has had its own Supreme Court drama. The governor had appointed Jane Roush to fill a vacancy on the Virginia Supreme Court. Republican leadership objected and the General Assembly ultimately elected Stephan McCullough for the job.

The budget includes much needed funding for Virginia's public schools and the Assembly passed a budget that includes money to increase tax credits to support economic development. The Assembly did pass a bill to keep guns out of the hands of domestic abusers.

Fairfax County – Happiness

Chairman Sharon Bulova recently writes that the General Assembly passed a new 2016-2018 biennium budget that contains very good news for Fairfax County and Fairfax County Public Schools. The budget restores about 11 million dollars for K-12 support staff for the two years. You can receive the emailed 'Bulova Byline' by emailing chairman@fairfaxcounty.gov or go to the website fairfaxcounty.gov/chairman.
